INTRODUCTION

The European Centre for River Restoration (ECRR) is an European network whose mission is to enhance and promote river restoration and sustainable river management throughout Europe, disseminating river restoration information and fostering the establishment of national river restoration networks in as many European countries as possible.

The ECRR organizes the seminar "Practices of river restoration in the Danube Basin", that will take place in Budapest, Hungary, on 28-29 September 2007.

The event will focus on river basin management and river restoration experiences carried out in the Danube Basin, in order to share knowledge and concepts, approaches, methods and strategies on river restoration and to foster networking associating subjects working in river restoration within the frame of ECRR.
